THE SOLENT SAFETY AWARD, JACK BENNETT TROPHY AND GRANT M^cMILLAN TROPHY

The Solent Safety Award, Jack Bennett Trophy and Grant M^c Millan Trophy are awarded for submissions containing original safety ideas or effective health, safety and environmental systems, which can or have been developed and used by individuals or organisations. Participants may also submit entries which project methods of accident prevention, safety promotion, education or training schemes.

The Solent Safety Award

The Solent Safety Award was conceived by the late Philip Coutts when he was chairman of the group during the early eighties, and is dedicated in his memory.

This was the first award of its kind to be introduced specifically for companies in the greater Portsmouth area, who demonstrated commitment to the principles of health and safety at work.

The Jack Bennett Trophy

The Jack Bennett Trophy is dedicated to the memory of the late Jack Bennett who was not only a founder member of the group, but also held many of its executive officer posts. Jack is particularly remembered for his tireless effort in organising many of the groups successful conferences.

The Grant McMillan Trophy

Grant McMillan is a doctor who specialises in health and safety. He spent over thirty years in uniform in the Royal Navy, including time in training establishments and in search and rescue helicopters. This taught him that, while life should not be spent in the safety of a "bubble wrap" cocoon, we should always be on the look out for danger so that we can avoid taking needless risks for our own health and safety and that of others. He believes that this should not be seen as an optional extra or a needless burden and that it is never too early in life to make this attention to health and safety an automatic part of our work and play — starting at home and in schools and colleges. This trophy is dedicated in recognition of Grant's contribution in the field of occupational health and safety, and his commitment to the Hampshire Health Safety and Environment Group.

The Solent Safety Award is normally awarded to entries from member companies or individual group members. The Jack Bennett Trophy is for entries from Schools, 6th Forms and Colleges of Further Education. The Grant McMillan Trophy is to be awarded to schools for entries from children at Key Stage 2 or to youth organisations for entries from their members in the 7 to 11 year age group. The trophy will be awarded on merit to the entry which best demonstrates promotion and commitments to safety, health, and/or environmental protection through their schoolwork, hobbies, or youth group activities.

The group are seeking entries particularly from Youth Organisations, Schools, 6th Forms and Colleges of Further Education, with the aim of promoting safety awareness, occupational health and environmental issues both in the young and in those shortly to join industry or commerce. Entries should demonstrate a basic understanding of hazard and risk and how they could be managed.

Entries are welcome from organisations in the public or private sector. They may be from an individual or group. Entries from small or medium enterprises are particularly welcome.

The organisers will accept entries in any form; they may be written or in the form of a model, video, poster or any combination of these.
